

Harrison in Cleveland.

The President Warmly Welcomed to the Forest City.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING.

Fifteen Thousand People Attempt to Shake the Hand of the Nation's Chief Executive, But Only About One-Third of Them Are Successful.

CLEVELAND, O., May 30.—President Harrison and party arrived at 12:55 p. m., yesterday to participate in the dedication of the Garfield memorial. Although the bluffs were black with people in front of the depot very little enthusiasm was manifested when the president and his associates made their appearance.

Secretary Rusk, who was instantly recognized received, perhaps, the heartiest welcome. The president occupied the first carriage, which was drawn by four coal black horses, with Commodore Eells as escort. Then came Vice President Morton, next ex-Governor Foster, Attorney General Miller and Secretary Windom. Postmaster General Wamamaker Mr. McKinley, Gen. Rusk and S. T. Everett, carriages containing the reception committee bringing up the rear. In the business center and along Euclid avenue the president received a hearty reception, crowds flocking about the carriage and endeavoring to shake his hand.

In the evening the president held a public reception in which 15,000 people attempted to participate, but only about one-third of which number succeeded. The reading-room of the Stillman, which had been tendered for the event, was transformed into a floral bower. Vice President Morton stood on the right of the president, with Attorney General Miller, Postmaster General Wamamaker and Secretary Rusk standing in the line in the order named. Behind the rank was a bank of roses three feet in height.

Outside the lawn as well as Euclid avenue for a couple of blocks either way was black with struggling people. A detachment of the Brooks cadets managed to restore a semblance of order out of the chaos on the lawn.

The doors were opened and the populace commenced to pour in. They kept at it for two hours at the rate of forty a minute. Gen. W. T. Sherman, who had been smuggled in the kitchen door, was assigned at a place at the bottom of the line next to Secretary Rusk. The latter insisted on the veteran going between the vice president and Attorney General Miller. Uncle Billy stood the handshaking just two minutes then beat a retreat and was seen no more. No partiality was shown in the matter of admittance. Laborers crowded on millionaires, bootblacks were intermingled with babies, the rustic and the congressman both took their chances in the general rush.

Hon. Amos Townsend did the introductory honors. For an hour and three-quarters the five arms worked like pump handles, and five hands took on a decidedly red and flabby appearance. Every now and then an extra enthusiastic grip would bring an involuntary twitch to either Attorney General Miller's or Mr. Wamamaker's face. At the end of the period named, United States Marshal Ramsdell suggested that the president had probably had enough. The chief executive, however, replied that he could stand fifteen minutes more, and the in-pour was resumed. Five minutes later, however, all but the president had given up and contented themselves with bowing to those introduced. The reception came to an end at 10 o'clock, about 4,500 people having passed through the room.

Grand Army veterans, Knights Templars, Knights of Pythias and other civic bodies, and visitors unclassified have been pouring into the city for the past twenty-four hours, and last night lodgings were at a premium.

A score of detectives from New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and other points are also here to look out for about five times that number of knaves who have centered here in the expectation of reaping a harvest.

A BELLE IN COURT.

An Indiana Maiden Being Tried as a Chicken Thief.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., May 30.—The state, by over one hundred witnesses, has been trying to prove Alice Pollock, of Ripley township, daughter of a father prominent in political and church circles, guilty of petty chicken and bacon stealing. She is a beautiful brunette about 18 years old, the belle of the neighborhood. Depredations have been going on for the past few months.

Farmer Beam claims she is guilty because she had in her possession his favorite speck and long-neck hens, and the theory of the prosecution is that she has been stealing and selling. The cause is unexplainable, as her father is wealthy, and she always has all the money she wants. The whole neighborhood is excited, as she is the favorite maiden of the village. The court-room is crowded and the maiden is in tears.
